Workshop in Palma de Mallorca in collaboration with Comic Nostrum, the University of the Balearic Islands and Kunsthochschule Kassel School of Art and Design

«Europe and me» is a three day workshop by the comic artist Max and Hendrik Dorgathen for students from Spain and Germany.

The general theme is "Europe" and what it means to the younger generation. After the Brexit, the controversy about the refugees, the awakening of populism and nationalism, Trump, and a lot of other problems it may be good as artists to reflect on that topics.

The artists of my generation profits a lot of the EU. Giving this workshop is a living proof of the strong connection between majorcan and german artists that grew in the last 30 years. My own career is deeply influenced by this exchange with artists from Mallorca.

The task is to create a short comic on the theme. It can be very personal or reflect on the opportunities and problems of the EU in form of a drawn reportage or essay. It would be helpful to inform the students upfront about the topic. So they can prepare, read articles etc.

The workshop starts 3 days before the Còmic Nostrum Festival and the results will be shown on the festival.

I will with a group of about 14 students from Kassel University and there will be places for 14 students or young professionals of Mallorca. I think it could be a very good and inspiring experience for the all of us.

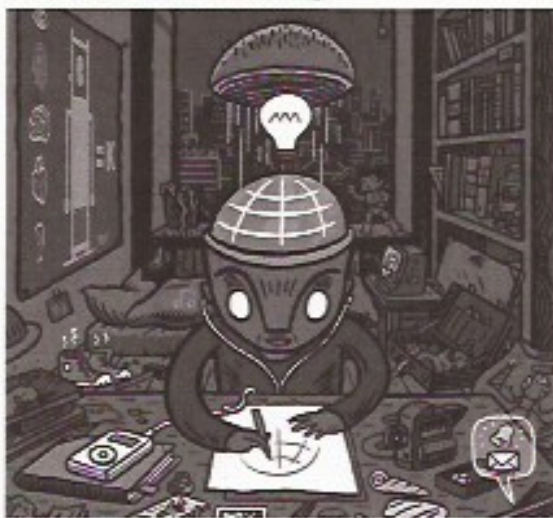

The workshop will be held in english by myself and Max and it's free!!
